The screenshot shows the Postman application interface. On the left, there's a sidebar titled 'History' listing various API requests. The main area displays a request configuration for 'http://localhost:3000/api/posts'. The 'Body' tab is selected, showing three checked parameters: 'genre' (Punk Rock), 'album' (American Idiot (2004)), and 'judullagu' (Boulevard of Broken Dreams). The 'Pretty' tab of the response view shows a JSON object with two items, each representing a song from the specified filters.
